Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Directors
Newby & Company
Rockville, Maryland

We have audited the accompanying Statements of Financial Condition of Newby & Company (an S Corporation) as of December 31, 2002 and 2001. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Newby & Company as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained on pages 5 and 6 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statement and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statement taken as a whole.

The accompanying Notes to Financial Statements are an integral part of these financial statements.

Newby & Company

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Organization and significant accounting policies

Organization: Newby & Company was incorporated on January 26, 1990, pursuant to the laws of the State of Delaware. The Company is a registered broker-dealer and member firm of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD).

Cash and cash equivalents: The Company maintains cash balances which may exceed Federally insured limits. The Company does not believe that this results in any significant credit risk.

For purposes of financial statement presentation, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments with initial maturities of ninety days or less to be cash equivalents.

Trading account securities: Trading account securities are valued at current value.

Securities transactions are recorded on a settlement date basis.

Property and equipment: Property and equipment are recorded at original cost to the Company and are depreciated using accelerated methods over predetermined lives of five to seven years.

Use of accounting estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income taxes: Effective January 1, 1991, the Company elected to be treated as an S Corporation under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. Under those provisions, the Company does not pay Federal corporate income taxes on its taxable income. Instead, the stockholder is liable for individual Federal income taxes from the Company's taxable income. Consequently, income taxes have not been recorded in the accompanying financial statements.

2. Clearing broker payable

Clearing broker payable represents the interest earned on the deposit placed, commissions earned net of exchange fees and trading account securities not yet paid for. The Company is charged monthly according to the terms of the clearing agreement. The net payable due to the clearing broker was $305,241 and $290,651 at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

Newby & Company

Notes to Financial Statements

- 3. Net capital requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2002 and 2001, the Company had net capital of $184,703 and $412,669, respectively, which was $84,703 and $312,669, in excess of its required net capital of $100,000. The Company's aggregate indebtedness to net capital ratio was .11 and .25 to 1 at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.
- 4. Reserve requirements

The Company is exempt from provisions of the Securities and Exchange Commission Reserve Requirement Rule 15c3-3 under clause K2ii, in that the Company is a fully disclosed firm, carries no margin accounts and does not otherwise take custody of or owe funds or securities to customers.
- 5. Related party transactions

In 2001, the Company entered into an agreement with a company majority owned by the sole stockholder. This agreement provides that this company will reimburse the Company 10% of salary expense for certain employees working on its behalf as well as office space which is sub-leased on a month-to-month basis. The Company was reimbursed $11,477 and $4,372 for the years ended December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.
- 6. Leases

The Company, as lessee, has a lease for office space in Gaithersburg, Maryland, which expires October 31, 2003. The lease provides for fixed increases throughout the term of the lease. Minimum future rental payments required under the lease are $49,411, due in 2003.
- 7. Retirement plan

In August 2000, the Company established a Simplified Employee Pension Plan (SEP) for all present and future eligible employees. Employees' contributions are limited to $6,000, indexed for inflation, and the employer's matching contributions are limited to 3% of participant's eligible gross salaries. Employees vest immediately in all contributions. The Company contributed $2,200 for the year ended December 31, 2002.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control

Board of Directors
Newby & Company
Rockville, Maryland

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Newby & Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2002, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors, management and the SEC and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
